

HAPPY DAILY READING

“When you read to a child you get a second chance in life: to meet and enjoy the books you missed out on as a kid.” Jim Trelease

“The more you read, the better you get at it; the better you get at it, the more you like it; and the more you like it, the more you do it. The more you read, the more you know; and the more you know, the smarter you grow.” Keith E. Stanovich as found on page 4 in The Read-Aloud Handbook 7th Edition by: Jim Trelease

“We don’t need to have just one favorite. We keep adding favorites. Our favorite book is always the book that speaks most directly to us at a particular stage in our lives. And our lives change. We have other favorites that give us what we most need at that particular time. But we never lose the old favorites. They’re always with us. We just sort of accumulate them.” Lloyd Alexander, author

Where can you find ideas for books to read?

<http://bookschildrentreasure.blogspot.com>

Picture books and chapter books for Elementary-aged children

<http://msyinglingreads.blogspot.com>

Elementary-age book reviews, especially for boys

<https://shanshad1.wordpress.com>

Children’s Science Fiction and Fantasy Books

Twitter #bookaday

Followers suggest a title of a book each day for you to read.

Do a YouTube Search for “book trailers for children” and then you can look over videos of various book reviews.

The Read-Aloud Handbook by: Jim Trelease

Lists books that are great for reading aloud or otherwise.

Books Your Kids Will Sit Still For 1, 2 and 3 by: Judy Freeman

Of course, you can always ask your school or public librarian, as well as your family and friends.