Dear Carnelian Family,

This is a busy month for our Cardinals! The month began by highlighting reading as it was the week of Read Across America. Several different activities were going on in the classrooms and the Cat in the Hat was even spotted on campus. We honored our Cardinals of the Month at our March 4th flag assembly. We are proud of the excellent work they are doing in academia and citizenship. Students who met their Accelerated Reader goals were honored with a half hour of organized games and a dance party. Great fun was had by all! We had an on site Festival of the Arts on March 5th where each grade level displayed exceptional art work created by our Cardinals. We thank the families who stopped by to celebrate with our artists. Our second Trimester awards will be given this month also. Our Cardinals are achieving great things and are deserving of each award.

Our 3rd through 6th grades are preparing for state testing. They will be taking practice tests all month affording them the opportunity to review navigation skills on the computer as well as content. Scores this year will be viewed only as baseline data for future testing due to the interlude created by the pandemic. We know our Cardinals will do well regardless.

Parent conferences are held in March and we look forward to sharing our students' progress. This is a time for parents to ask questions and gain insights regarding their child's success at school.

March brings the return to daylight savings time so be sure to set your clocks accordingly. This is also a great time to be thinking about some good books for your student to read during our upcoming spring break. We wish you all a healthy and productive week.

As always, we want to thank our Carnelian families for all of your support and partnership. It has been an honor to work with you and serve as your Interim Principal. This is truly an exceptional place!

With Cardinal Pride,
Sue Geddes/Interim Principal
